create an identity

Color coordination between mansard and above window area intensifies the green decor.

Adjacent buildings were unified by the use of a continuous mansard.

Techo Tile in Mission Red gives class to this upscale restaurant.

The colors of the Italian flag were used to identify this specialty market. The tile configuration of the SCANROOF panel added to the European flavor.

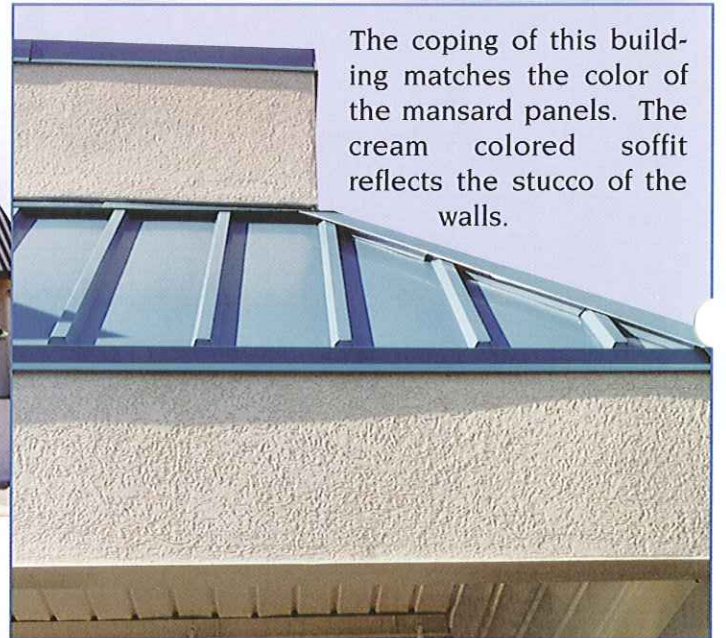

Endless Possibilities

For identifying the anchor store or entrance, a combination of panel profiles in matching colors adds a special touch to these plazas.

Your imagination is the limit! A remodeled service station utilizes antique furnishings. The green and white panels were used to simulate a striped awning.

The coping of this building matches the color of the mansard panels. The cream colored soffit reflects the stucco of the walls.

Installation in progress: Structural U's used for the framing and Dutch Seam panels in Teal color for the mansard.
